To the legal immigrant: Welcome. To the illegal alien: Leave.

Peter Theron, candidate for Wisconsin's Second Congressional District, stands with the people of Arizona as they grapple with the problems caused by illegal aliens. Arizona Governor Jan Brewer said, "This emergency has been the result of decades of neglect and an ongoing unwillingness by the federal government to fully shoulder its constitutional duty to secure our country's Southern border with Mexico."

Theron stated, "Legal immigrants are America's most precious imports. They have shown respect for our laws by following them even before they came to our shores. They are already Americans in their hearts because they know the importance we place on following the law. In contrast those who enter the US by climbing a fence or swimming a river break our laws immediately. As long as they do not have respect for our law in their hearts, they cannot be Americans. They will remain illegal aliens."

Theron continued, "We must have secure borders and immigration enforcement. Secure borders start with a border fence. Immigration enforcement means employers who knowingly hire illegal workers face significant fines. It means that law enforcement officers check the immigration status of anyone they arrest. It means that those who overstay visas are deported. It means that localities may not deem themselves 'sanctuary' cities and refuse to enforce the law."

Theron concluded, "I stand with Arizona and call on the federal government to finish the fence. I call on all levels of government to fully enforce our immigration laws. To the legal immigrant: Welcome. To the illegal alien: Leave."
