Theron introduces "Bills on Tape"

Peter Theron, Republican candidate for Wisconsin's 2nd Congressional District, introduces "Bills on Tape", a service for busy legislators who do not have time to read bills before they vote to approve them.

Theron explains, "This effort will distribute the burden of reading across the entire population. It will truly be Citizens Readng Incumbents' Bills that Not One of Them Even Skimmed (C.R.I.B. N.O.T.E.S)." Theron is taping citizens reading sections of the health-care bill and posting these videos on his website, TheronForCongress.com.

Theron continues, "Before Tammy Baldwin and Russ Feingold voted for Obamacare, they had not read its 2,074 pages. This carelessness was not an isolated incident. Earlier this month, Tammy Baldwin and Russ Feingold voted for a bill that lacked a proper title."

The official title of H.R. 1586 is the "_____ Act of ____". It is also known as "The XXXXXX Act of XXXX." Not only did this bill not have a proper title, it was an appropriations bill that unconstitutionally originated in the Senate. Despite these problems both Tammy Baldwin and Russ Feingold approved of the bill.

Theron also notes that before administration officials criticized SB1070, Arizona's immigration law, they had not read its 17 pages. "We need representatives in Washington who will treat legislation with the care it deserves," Theron adds.

Theron concludes, "People wishing to participate in CRIB NOTES can contact me at Peter@TheronForCongress.com."
